

We plot a histogram of the total number of steps taken each day:

We plot the average steps (y-axis) against the intervals (x-axis):

After we input the missing values, we make a histogram of the total number of steps taken each day:

Difference between weekends and weekdays:

